OUR LADY OF DOLOURS CATHOLIC PRIMARY SCHOOL

NEWS Term 2 Week 10 - 2 July 2018

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL - Kirsty Thorpe

Welcome to the final week of Semester 1, 2018. What a wonderful semester of learning we have all had at O.L.D. Our Kindergarten students have almost been at school 100 days, our Year 6 students have blossomed into compassionate leaders and all students in between have embodied our Mercy values each and every day. It is amazing to consider it was only in the past two terms that we welcomed Mrs Greenwood, Miss Bliss and Mrs Zahra to our staff and welcomed back Mrs Antico. A wonderful addition they have all made to the school already.

As we prepare for the school holidays, it is important to remember how vital this time is for our students (and staff) to rest, recuperate and relax after a very full-on 10 weeks of school. Cherish the time you have with your children and have lots of fun. Mr Ledlin has taken some leave this week to spend time with his family and welcome back his daughter, who has been living in England for the past couple of years. I am very excitedly counting down the days until I head back to Cambodia to spend time with my 'second family' over there. It's been a long six months since I last spent time with the children and I can't wait to be with them all again (and be back in the tropical climate!).

As we are about to part for two weeks I wanted to share with you a speech written by Gwenaelle in Year 6. This speech is about the three wishes she would want granted by a genie, please take the time to read it as her very wise words are a timely reminder for us to reflect on what our three wishes would be in life and what we can to do ensure they become a reality. Thank you for sharing these words with us Gwenaelle.

What are you supposed to say to a genie when they ask you for your three wishes? I know that may seem like a silly question to ask, but what would you say?

When I was a little younger, I always wondered what I was supposed to do if I ever met a magical genie. Where would it come from? Would it pop out of nowhere? What kind of wishes would I ask for? Well, I kinda knew that one. Or at least I thought I did. I wished for billions of dollars, a mansion with a swimming pool and a pet unicorn, obviously. But as I got older, I started to think more about the wishes and what they really meant.

So then, I changed my three wishes to world peace, good health for all and world prosperity. These wishes would be a betterment for humanity.

If I wished for world peace, there would be no more wars and fights that broke up people's friendships, instead we could spread love! Good health for all would mean no more starvation and everyone would live a longer life. And if the world had prosperity, it would mean everyone would be able to financially support themselves and their families. All in all, this world would be perfect. Too perfect.

With all this perfection, it leaves the world with no faults. If you think about it, life is all about making mistakes and learning from those mistakes. And that's when I realised, it is not my sole responsibility to fix the world. It is all our responsibility. So by changing myself, I can change the world. So these are my three wishes:

To know myself completely.

To know another completely.

And for another to know myself completely.

You might think, "What a waste of three wishes!" But I believe that these three wishes are the most powerful wishes one could grant to self. These three wishes are the wishes that can help me to grow as a person and help others grow. By knowing others, it creates a sense of love and care for each other. But it is only when you truly know yourself, you can start to completely know others. There is a saying, 'If you know a grain of sand completely, you will know the world in its entirety.'

Don't wait for a magical genie to come, because the real genie is inside of you. The real genie is you. The only person that can make all your dreams, goals and aspirations come true is you. You may not realise it, but you might already have accomplished your dream. So be careful and be mindful, because whatever you wish for, it will come true.

Always remember, as Gandhi once said 'You must be the change you wish to see in the world.' So what would you wish for?

Reminder – Staff Development Day Monday 23rd July:

Students will return to school on Tuesday 24th July.

Monday 23rd July is a Staff Development Day where all the O.L.D staff will be participating in a spirituality day; an annual day where staff develop their own faith and make their continued commitment to Catholic Education. Students will not attend school on this day.

Sport Days Term 3 (Teacher: Miss Adeline):

Monday – KB, KG, 1G, 2B, 2G, 3G, 3B

Tuesday – 1B, 4B, 4G, 5B, 6G

Friday – All classes

Sports Marathon:

Yesterday all students received a sponsorship form and information about next term's sports marathon (it is also attached at the end of this newsletter). This is an exciting event that will help raise funds (hopefully $20k or more) to inject money into 'Project Playscape'. This is an innovative project that will see the playground transform to allow for more creativity, fun and inclusion of all students. Let's all work together as a community to get sponsors and raise funds that will go directly to help the children's social, emotional, physical and cognitive development at school. Thank you to the amazing team of organisers!

Holiday maintenance projects at the school:

Last holidays our wonderful maintenance extraordinaire, Steve McDonald, was project manager when the school was painted. This holidays he will be busy planting the remaining trees in our new pots around the playground. There will also be major works with the electrical circuits and wires. We wish to thank Steve for all the background work he does to make sure the school is safe and inviting for the students.

Fun games to play in the holidays

I know many parents want to ensure their child maintains the learning gains they had throughout the term and often ask teachers what can they do in the holidays. Please view these suggestions as just that...suggestions! Often the best learning experiences in holidays are all the experiences you have with your family – visiting museums, art galleries, a new place or country, speaking to new people, doing art and craft activities or trying a new sport or musical instrument. However, below are a few fun ideas for reading, writing and maths.

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL - Kirsty Thorpe

Reading: Encourage your child to read daily, especially if they are a beginning or emerging reader. Please also read regularly to your child too – even our Stage 3 students. Modelling the behaviours that adults do when reading is essential in a students' reading development (please read in any language you speak at home!).

Writing: Your child could also write a journal of their holiday to share with the class, or write a story for their teacher and friends. You can also encourage your child to write everyday items such a birthday cards, shopping lists, emails to family members or post cards if you are travelling.

Maths: Playing board games and card games are a great way to practise maths skills. If you are playing monopoly or a board game with an older student why not play with two dice – multiply to add the number and that's how many space you move. You can play snap with friends of 10 or doubles or make up your own bingo or concentration games.

Life skills: Holidays are a great time to learn and practise some important life skills that are used every day at school; tying shoe laces and school ties; taking on and off your jumper, shoes and socks; packing your own school bag; taking off lunch box/ fruit break container lids and putting them back on; taking off drink bottle lids and filling up the bottle; using money at the shops to purchase products and count the change.

Parents we also ask you to take the time in the holidays to re-label all your child's belongings – jumpers, lunch boxes (and lids), drink bottles, school bags, hats etc. This will prevent your child from losing their belongings that we know cost a lot of money. Thank you!

Kindergarten news!

Something very exciting is happening in Kindergarten during our first week back next term and it is going to be a day they will remember forever (so will their parents and teachers!!). We don't want to give too much away but see if your children can work out how many days kindy will have been at school? Kindergarten parents will receive more information later this week from their teachers.

SCHOOL BANKING

School Banking

It's hard to believe that we're already halfway through the school year. Twenty weeks of school banking down; 20 to go (not that anyone's counting).

Thank you to all the families who have been participating in the school banking program this year. It's been great to see that we have yellow wallets come in from every class in the school each week.

Reward tokens - a reminder that the Commonwealth Bank's 'Youth App' can be downloaded (on iPhones). This app allows you to keep track of balances - and the number of reward tokens your child should have. For more information: https://www.commbank.com.au/digital-banking/youth-app.html

Enjoy the holidays, and don't forget banking starts up again in week 1 of term 3.

Knitting

The children made us very proud in the manner in which they gave their scarves to the elderly. We really appreciated not only in the effort of knitting the scarves but also the kind manner in which the scarves were delivered. Our students were very gracious, well-mannered and respectful to the elderly.

Many children were able to meet their given elderly friend and personally give them their scarf. Unfortunately, some students were not able to personally give their scarves to their allocated friend due to various circumstances. Please be assured that the elderly will eventually receive your scarves and experience the joy of your gift and kindness.

Broken Bay Bishop's Religious Visual Arts Prize:

We hope you enjoyed the Religious Art viewings in classrooms last Friday. The artworks were amazing, creative and beautiful.

Winners will be announced in Week 10.

OLD Social Justice Initiative:

Thank you again for your generosity in supplying goods for the "House of Welcome." The parish is very grateful for your generous contribution. Mrs Wilson, from the parish, came and collected the items today and her car was FULL! Thanks again.
